Income.—Ordinary Income shows a gratifying increase over 1935, and has enabled the Board to carry out some much needed improvements—particularly to the electric wiring and equipment, and the provision of isolation rooms in the Nursery Ward. The total of £55,970 4s. 1d. was made up of Ordinary £50,703 0s. 0d. and Extraordinary £5,267 4s. 1d., compared with Ordinary £49,681 15s. 10d. and Extraordinary £8,261 7s. 8d. in 1935. The receipts from the three funds were :—

Sheffield Hospitals Council (Inc.) ...	37,476	2	6
Hospitals Sunday Fund 	811	4	0
Alexandra Rose Day 	351	12	5

The Board place on record their thanks to the Trustees of the Bernhard Baron Charitable Trust who have contributed to the Hospital Funds the sum of £1,185 since the formation of the Trust in 1928.

Expenditure.—Ordinary expenditure at £48,694 16s. 11d. compares with £47,960 17s. 1d. in 1935, and Extraordinary at £2,056 19s. 8d. compares with £1,720 18s. 9d. Total expenditure exceeded ordinary income by £48 16s. 7d.

Bank Overdraft.—The amount owing to the Bank is larger because of payments made on account of the buildings at the Hospital and at Tapton Court. Indebtedness of £36,304 19s. 4d. compares with £27,312 13s. 2d. in 1935.

Members of the Board.—The Board record with deep regret the death on 29th December, 1936, of Mr. John H. Burrows.

Mr. Burrows was elected to the Board of Management on the 30th June, 1911. He was one of the first members of the House Committee on its formation in January, 1923, and was its first Chairman. He served also on the Finance Committee, and acted as Deputy Honorary Treasurer. His quiet, earnest manner and his abiding interest in the Hospital won for him the great affection of his colleagues.

While this report is being written, the news is received of the death on 17th February, 1937, of another member of the Board—Mr. A. E. Butcher.

Mr. Butcher was elected on the 29th April, 1936, as a representative of the Sheffield and District Association of Hospital Contributors, and he had already proved himself to be an enthusiastic worker. His death, coming only 10 months after his election is deeply regretted.

The Hospital is much the poorer by these losses.

Honorary Staff.—On the 15th October, 1936, Professor A. E. Naish completed his active service as Senior Honorary Physician. Dr. Naish had been on the Staff of the Hospital for more than thirty years, having been elected for the first time on 23rd May, 1906. He was very closely identified with every stage of the progress of Medicine, and of the growth of the Hospital. His election to the Professorial Chair of Medicine at the University of Sheffield in 1931 was a fitting recognition of his fame as a Physician. The Governors will be grateful to know that as an Honorary Consulting Physician, Professor Naish will continue his association with the Hospital.

Dr. C. Gray Imrie, the Honorary Assistant Physician, was elected Honorary Physician on 28th October, 1936.

Dr. T. E. Gumpert, the Medical Registrar and Assistant Physiologist, was elected Honorary Assistant Physician on 25th November, 1936.

Our President.—The Board sent their best wishes and hearty congratulations to His Grace the Duke of Norfolk, E.M., K.G., on the occasion of his marriage in January, 1937.

Sheffield Hospitals' Council (Inc.).—Last year, the funds received from the Hospital Council constituted a record. The continued support is very welcome and much appreciated.

It is not too much to say that the splendid Hospital spirit throughout the Community, and the consequent financial help, has eased the burden and anxiety of the Boards in a great degree; moreover it is making possible services which a few years ago would have been almost impossible to provide.

The very best thanks are due both to the workpeople who continue to contribute so willingly through the 1d. in the £ Fund and to the employers, 99% of whom in bad times and in good add their third.

The Hospitals are doing their best to do their part by the day to day care of the sick and injured, many of the latter being serious cases from the works and the mines.

There is a more general recognition of the value of the Hospitals in regard to Industry, though the Hospitals are ever mindful of their obligations to the sick and indigent poor.

Amalgamation.—It has been decided to amalgamate this Hospital with the Royal Infirmary, and to this end it is necessary to obtain the sanction of Parliament. The solicitors are therefore taking the necessary steps to promote a Private Bill.

The general arrangements have been approved in principle and confirmed by the Boards of the Infirmary and Hospital. It has been agreed that the present individual Boards shall constitute the United Board ; each will continue to direct the management of their respective Hospitals as in the past.

The United Board will jointly control the election of Consultants, and naturally decide on extensions of a major character.

Steps are being taken to formulate a complete plan for the utilisation of the existing buildings and equipment, with a view to getting the very best value out of them. There is no intention of immediate scrapping of any accommodation, but making the most of what exists. At the same time, the acquisition at the earliest moment of a suitable site near the University is on the programme. The Staffs consider the provision of 100 Beds for Radium treatment is second only in importance to the increase of Maternity Beds which the Jessop Hospital have in hand. The Radium Beds would be one of the first provisions of the new Unit Hospital.

The existing Boards will continue to direct their individual institutions, and the administrative, nursing and domestic staffs will be engaged by them, and be answerable to them without change or interference.

It is expected there will be less over-lapping and duplication in the treatment of patients, but more specialisation. There will be more “ regional ” surgery and medicine. Specialised treatment of fractures in accordance with the latest technique has been decided on as a first step. It is also hoped that there may be soon a Clinic for diseases of the respiratory organs such as Asthma and Hay Fever; industrial diseases such as Silicosis, and for Anti-gas treatment.

The question may naturally be asked : “ Why procure a new site and abandon Norton ? ”

The fundamental difficulty in connection with Norton was that for a teaching Hospital it is too far from the University and its Medical School. However, Norton has served, and is still serving, a good purpose by providing an annexe for the Jessop Hospital. The sale of part of the estate to Alderman J. G. Graves for an addition to Graves Park, and the development of that portion of the Estate which is outside the Park, should bring in substantial sums which will be very helpful in connection with the more suitable site, which it is hoped to secure.

Extensions.—Completion of the Miners' Welfare Block is expected about Mid-Summer, 1937. The new boilers were fired for the first time in December. Good progress is being made with the internal fittings.

Paying Beds.—An extra floor is being added to the new block to enable the Board to provide 31 Beds for Paying Patients. There will also be a separate Operation Theatre.

Every care is being taken to cater for all, from those who cannot afford full Nursing Home fees, but who can pay something, up to the patient who desires a private bathroom, etc.

Neither the Capital required nor the expenses of maintenance will come out of general Hospital funds. Already several generous gifts amounting to about £6,000 have been received for the installation (the cost will be between £10,000 and £15,000), and it is anticipated as regards up-keep the scheme will be self-supporting.

By signing a Deed of Covenant (facing page 22) a gift may be spread over seven years, and the Hospital will claim repayment of Income Tax thereon and the donor obtain relief in respect of Sur-Tax on the amount received by the Hospital, for example :—

Great interest is being shown by both the medical profession and the potential patients. A Provident Scheme is being formed to assist the staffs of the business houses, etc., to make provision for the expenses of sickness such as Nursing Home or Paying Bed Charges and specialist fees. This has no immediate connection with the Hospital, but is regarded with sympathetic interest.

As was intimated in last year's report, all members of the Consulting Staffs of the Voluntary Hospitals will have the entree should they and their patients desire it.

The permission of the Charity Commissioners to establish Paying Beds is being asked in accordance with The Voluntary Hospitals (Paying Patients) Act, 1936.

Radium Centre.—This is now accommodated at the Infirmary with Beds at the other Hospitals, but the arrangements are somewhat makeshift.

A new block is needed with suitably arranged wards, and the equipment housed in premises designed for the purpose.

The hydra-headed monster of Cancer must be met by the best weapons that can be provided. Results give much promise. If only cases are reported early, relief can be given.

There is now less reluctance to seek aid, but accommodation must be provided.

University.—The provision of a block at the new University Hospital will be one of the first fruits of amalgamation.

If the efforts now being made to secure a site near the University are successful, this day should not be far off.

In co-operation with the University, the new Dental Department will also be proceeded with on the same site. These additions, together with the new extensions to the Jessop Hospital, and the developments at the University itself will place the Medical School on a high plane.

Tapton Court Nurses Home.—His Royal Highness the Duke of Kent opened the extensions to the Tapton Court Nurses' Home on Wednesday, 21st October, 1936. About 500 guests attended on the invitation of the President, His Grace the Duke of Norfolk, E.M., K.G., who presided over the ceremony which was held in a marquee erected on the South Lawn.

Speeches were made by His Royal Highness, the Chairman of the Board of Management (Fred. M. Osborn, Esq.), and the Senior Physician (Dr. E. Fretson Skinner) and the Home was thrown open for inspection.

SOME INTERESTING DATES.

1934. 18th December. Work of building the extensions was commenced.

1936. 20th March. East Wing completed and occupied by Nurses.

1936. 10th July. West Wing completed and occupied by Sisters.

1936. 21st October. Both extensions declared open by His Royal Highness the Duke of Kent.

The architect was Mr. J. Mansell Jenkinson, F.R.I.B.A., and the builders Messrs. H. M. Blenkhorne & Son, Ltd.

The thanks of the Board are given to the many donors of £100 to the Room Naming Fund, to the Linen and Clothing Guild, for much help and advice, and once again to Alderman J. G. Graves for equipping the Home for wireless reception, and for presenting a radio-gramophone.

Annexe.—Patients transferred from the Hospital during the year numbered 1,100 compared with 1,176 in 1935. The Pound Day held on 16th September was an opportunity for a re-union of former patients which was welcomed.

The gifts in kind and in cash were 780 lbs. of groceries, fruit and vegetables, 217 eggs and £16 10s. 6d., all of which was received with thanks and appreciation.

Linen and Clothing Guild.—The Honorary Secretary in presenting the 12th Annual Report stated that another satisfactory year's work had been achieved. The total receipts were £348 17s. 0d., compared with £334 5s. 4d. in the previous year. The Annual Meeting was held on 16th February, 1937, in the Cutlers' Hall on the invitation of the Mistress Cutler (Mrs. W. Tozer). At the "Open Day" in August, 827 garments were exhibited, also a large quantity of linen, blankets, etc.

The Junior Guild now has 500 members and they were responsible for 338 garments, 145 toys and 78 books. In addition the members raised £30, which was spent on 24 Nursery Quilts, a child's bed for the nursery and a trolley for use when washing babies.

The Board and the Honorary Staff again place on record their thanks for this outstanding piece of Hospital service.

Samaritan Society.—The full Report of the Samaritan Society is printed at the end of this book. The many visits to patients' homes and the unostentatious assistance given are very keenly valued. The Board and Honorary Staff appreciate highly the constant work both of the Samaritan Society Members and the Lady Visitors.

Wireless Reception.—The thanks of all associated with the Hospital are due to Alderman J. G. Graves, LL.D., J.P.; his co-trustees, and the Manager and Staff of his wireless department for maintaining the whole of the apparatus in excellent working order throughout the year. Expressions of gratitude for the entertainment received from the loud-speakers and ear-phones are many and heartfelt.

Christmas.—In accordance with what is now looked upon as an established custom, the Lord Mayor and the Lady Mayoress (Councillor Mrs. A. E. Longden, J.P., and Miss Longden) visited every ward of the Hospital on Christmas morning to convey the City's greetings to the patients. Once again the Members of the Rotary Club undertook the distribution of the Hospitals Councils' Christmas Gifts, which are a source of joy to all who receive them. Rotarian W. Hardwick Tasker again officiated as Father Christmas. The seasonable atmosphere was increased by the carol singing of a quartette (Miss Doris Waller, Miss Helen Chapman, Mr. C. H. Jones and Mr. Walter Midgeley) arranged by Miss M. Booth. To all contributors to the Christmas Festivities Fund very hearty thanks are due for their generosity.

Laundry.—The number of articles washed in 1936 was 461,778, and the cost, including depreciation of machinery, £1,848 15s. 7d., or at the rate of .96 pence per article.

Solicitor.—The Board record with gratification their thanks to Mr. Philip J. Blake, of Messrs. Wake, Smith and Fielding, the solicitor to the Hospital.

Nurses Training School.—During the year one new appointment has been made, viz., a second Home Sister at Tapton Court and a Sister has again been placed in charge of the Casualty Department. Two Royal Hospital trained nurses—Miss G. Cooke and Miss E. Dent, having gained the C.M.B. elsewhere, returned to act as Sisters. Staff Nurse Baker was promoted to Sister in the X-Ray Department. Probationer Nurses C. Thompson and M. T. Boyce-Hill were awarded the Hospital Gold Medal in the final examinations held in January and July. They also gained the scholarship of midwifery training at the Jessop Hospital for Women.

At the Annual Re-union of Nurses on Saturday, 23rd May, Miss Earle and over 200 past nurses were present.

On Alexandra Rose Day the Nursing Staff collected £218 13s. 4d., an amount which has not been exceeded since 1928.

The Sports' Club continues its activities. Tennis, Hockey and Swimming matches have been played. For the annual outing—Scarborough was visited in June—parties travelling by train on two days.

The Nursing Staff suffered a real loss in December by the death of Nurse Enid Broadhead who had just passed her Final State Examination.

Matron expresses her thanks to the numerous donors of gifts for the Nursery, the Wards, the Annexe and for Tapton Court. The results of the State Examination were:—

Final: 25 passes. Preliminary, 20 passes.

In addition 10 nurses passed the Invalid Cookery Examination of the Sheffield Domestic Science College.

Zachary Merton Convalescent Home.—Considerable progress is being made with the erection of this building on a site adjoining the Annexe at Fulwood, and hope is entertained of its completion during the Summer of 1937. There will be accommodation for 16 men, 16 women, and 16 children, and when fully equipped the Home will be handed over to the Hospital by the Zachary Merton Trustees. It is intended for use by patients who have received Hospital treatment, and who need a few days longer to make their cure complete before returning home.

Electricity Supplies.—The supply of electric current to the Hospital is being improved, and as far as is possible assured, by the erection on the site of a sub-station. The present multiple sources of supply from different positions will be discontinued, and the whole of the Institution served by the new sub-station.

The electric wiring of the Hospital which was installed piecemeal over a period of years is by no means uniform. Some of it is no longer efficient, some inadequate for modern apparatus and the whole is being replaced by the most up-to-date equipment.

The Board confidently expect to effect a considerable saving in the annual expenditure on electricity by these improvements.

New Drugs and Forms of Treatment.—It is customary for this Hospital to procure for the treatment of its patients, new drugs (if they possess advantages over older drugs) of definitely established therapeutic value.

The advantages most desired in a drug may be provided either by increased potency or decreased toxicity, as compared with another drug, or its use may render possible an improvement in technique. The ultimate aim is to give the patient as little discomfort as possible, either physically or mentally.

This policy has been faithfully pursued during the past year, and if increased cost has been incurred it has not retarded the adoption of a new drug or treatment, if it was considered to be an improvement on those hitherto used. Examples proving the soundness of this policy, and the necessity of being conversant with the trend of modern therapeutics, are provided by the pancreas and liver preparations. Insulin is a comparatively new drug, used for the treatment of diabetes, but to compare the recently isolated crystalline insulin with the original extracts of the pancreas (and their associated disadvantages), would reveal a marked contrast. Injections made from the pure crystalline insulin are now used in this Hospital for general purposes only, but despite its recent discovery, and its outstanding purity, it does not represent the latest stage that has been reached in Insulin therapy, which will be seen from the remarks below.

Liver preparations have also made rapid advances towards purity. The remarkably pure and useful preparations, in use only a year ago for parenteral administration, have been improved upon. The activity of Anahæmin, the latest product, is considerably greater than the earlier types. It represents to a greater degree the antianæmic principle of Liver. Its effect is therefore maintained over a much longer period, and instead of daily doses, the interval between injections is often extended to two days.

Insulin protaminate further illustrates the efforts which are being made to minimise the discomfort of patients, and reduce the inconvenience which accompanies one form of treatment or another. It is used for the same purpose as ordinary Insulin, but, amongst other advantages, it has a slower and more prolonged action. This allows an extension of the intervals between doses.

A very important chemical substance has recently become available for the treatment of bacterial infections. In this direction little success can be claimed in the past from chemotherapeutic drugs, either for treatment or prophylaxis. With the introduction of Prontosil and Prontosil Album, two of the major therapeutic discoveries of recent times, modern science has given weapons to combat one of the most dreaded of micro-organisms. The anti-streptococcal properties of these products is of great importance, and there is ample evidence of extended use of this series of drugs in the treatment of other diseases not purely streptococcal. It is hoped that this great discovery will open up a new field of medical research and treatment with associated compounds as the result of active clinical and chemical investigations now being made. Whilst one section of workers has been waging war on micro-organisms by means of chemical products, others have been perfecting serological products. So far Sera have been the most reliable means of providing a safeguard against, or treatment for, bacterial infection, but in certain instances undue bulk proved a disadvantage. Reduction in bulk and increase in potency are the marked improvements that have been made. Diphtheria, Streptococcus scarlatina, Staphylococcus, Tetanus, and Gas Gangrene are the most important antitoxins now available in concentrated form. Diphtheria Antitoxin provides a suitable example of greater concentration achieved by improved methods. The original strength of this Antitoxin was 10,000 units in 50 c.c., and represented an average dose. This unitage is now supplied in 4 c.c. of the product. Concentrated serological products are used for the treatment of patients in this Hospital.

Diphtheria Alum Precipitated Toxoid known as A.P.T. is a prophylactic of high immunising power, one dose instead of the usual three being sufficient to produce complete immunity against diphtheria in 90 per cent. of cases.

The control of Epileptic fits by Pheno-Barbitonum has been very successful in many cases, since its introduction several years ago. Certain deficiencies which were apparent in this drug have been overcome, and whilst the anti-epileptic action has been maintained, a new closely allied substance called Prominal is now available for such cases where Pheno-barbitonum is unsuitable.

Cases of acute Calcium deficiency are now treated with the new calcium compounds—Calcium Levulinate and Calcium Gluconate. These salts have a higher calcium content than the Lactate or Chloride, and are less irritating when injected in solution.

The employment of Magnesium Trisilicate for peptic ulcers is one of special interest. This substance possesses exceptional antacid properties, as well as an antiseptic and toxic absorbing action, and may possibly prove preferable to other antacids or Kaolin; now used for the same purpose.

A valuable urinary antiseptic for urinary infections was introduced to medicine last year in the form of Mandelic Acid. As is so often the case with new drugs, the original product is quickly improved upon. Ammonium Mandalate is the outcome of these improvements, and is available in the form of a palatable Elixir, retaining at the same time the outstanding unique properties of the original Mandelic Acid, which renders possible the treatment without dietary measures of certain cases of urinary infection.

Viper Venom for Hæmophilia and Bee Venom for the treatment of Rheumatism, and an organic Gold compound (Gold Sodium Thiosulphate) for certain types of Tuberculosis, are examples of the contrasting nature of new drugs that are receiving attention at the present moment.

The Comprehensive Nature of the Dispensary Stock.—Presuming the forgoing information to be of interest, if only to reveal the rapid progress of modern medical therapy, and the necessity of a pharmaceutical department which is able to record reports concerning latest drugs for reference and information when required, particulars of the annual consumption of other drugs and chemicals used in the routine work of the Hospital may also be interesting; in any case it will serve to show one phase of the expense incurred in running a modern Hospital. During the year covered by this report 1,200 gallons of methylated spirit were needed for surgical use and nearly a ton of pure Glucose. Less anæsthetic Æther is now used, with the introduction of basal anæsthetics, and only 700 lbs. were required as compared with 1,100 lbs. in 1935. Methylated Æther, used for cleaning the skin, amounted to 1,840 pints, or 230 gallons. Oxygen forms a very necessary aid in present day routine. To meet this demand, 508 twenty and forty ft. cylinders were necessary, with a gas capacity under pressure of 11,770 ft. For continuous use cylinders containing 100 ft. of oxygen are needed, and the Hospital is indebted to a friend for the gift of two specially made trollies for the transport of these heavy containers.

The useful Gaseous Anæsthetic, Nitrous Oxide, for dental extraction and minor surgical operations is also very much used. With a busy Dental Department, and the much utilised Operating Theatre of the Casualty Department, it is not surprising that 116,700 gallons of this gas, in 635 cylinders of assorted sizes, were needed. The items mentioned are only a few of the substances that are used in large quantities, some of which may possibly be mentioned in succeeding reports.

Manufacture of Medical and Surgical Preparations.—The main purpose of the Dispensary in any Hospital is to provide drugs and chemicals required for medical or surgical treatment, or diagnosis, together with dressings, bandages, and sundry other substances needed for the work of the Hospital. In some institutions the percentage of purchased galenical and other pharmaceutical preparations, used in dispensing medicines, is unreasonably high, and apart from constituting an uneconomical practice, it restricts the usefulness of the department, and is more or less an obstacle to efficiency. In this Hospital a much wider sphere is covered by the dispensary's activities. This department aims at manufacturing as many as possible of the galenical and other pharmaceutical preparations it uses, and also certain products not coming within this category. By so doing, a saving is often effected, as well as making the work much more interesting, and places the department on a much sounder and more useful basis. It embodies the principle of the well-known slogan "Direct from producer to Consumer."

The large steam autoclave provided early in 1935 has again proved its value. Bulk quantities of intravenous injections were prepared amounting to 868 pints, sterilised under pressure, and issued in sterile sealed containers. At a moderate estimate, each pint could not be purchased for less than 2s. 6d., as against that prepared in the hospital for 10d.

Many gallons of Cod Liver Oil, Acriflavine and Petroleum Emulsions were made, and an additional emulsion of kaolin has been added to the list. It may possibly be used entirely as a substitute for olive oil, for non-operative treatment of gastric and duodenal ulcers. As this Hospital requires a large amount of olive oil for this purpose, high prices and restricted supplies are becoming a serious matter. The olive oil producing countries bordering the Mediterranean (Spain, Italy, Palestine) are much too occupied with war-like measures to regard the symbol of peace so closely connected with olives.

A variety of medicinal syrups, measuring a total of 30 gallons, were prepared, and in addition double this volume of important poisonous and non-poisonous tinctures.

Several small quantities of the official glycerines, and 15 gallons of glycerine of ichthyol, are other items which were made.

For X-Ray purposes 1,440 bottles of barium meal, and 562 packets of photographic developer were manufactured. The saving thus effected on the former was £40, and the latter £68, as compared with the usual charges made for similar types of proprietary products.

Imperial drink in a concentrated form amounted to 1,280 pint bottles, and was used entirely for in-patient consumption. To have a plentiful and regular daily supply of freshly distilled water to provide for the many uses in hospital is of paramount importance. For these purposes 1,062 half-gallon bottles were distilled.

Tablet making activities produced an even larger number than last year of these convenient compressed forms of drugs, with a total of 485,407.

Large mixings of compound powders necessitated daily attention, from 16 lbs of compound asthma powder to many hundredweights of compound bismuth powder which were required in the year.

A much larger volume of local anæsthetic solution was needed than last year. Altogether $28\frac{3}{4}$ gallons of different strengths was used for dental extraction and minor surgical operations. This amount of any well-known local anæsthetic solution could not be purchased for less than £230, which is approximately six times what it actually cost to make in the dispensary.

Sterile white vaseline is now very much used as an application to wounds. To protect this substance from contamination it is supplied in sterilised collapsible tubes. When less used it was customary to purchase ready filled tubes at $9\frac{1}{2}$ d. each, but in view of the greater demand, and the associated extra cost, it was decided to carry out the process in the hospital. The yearly requirements now total 650 tubes which are put up at a cost of $5\frac{1}{2}$ d. per tube—a saving of £10 16s. 8d.

Another advantage complementary to the manufacture of spiritous galenicals is the rebate allowed by the Commissioners of Customs and Excise on spirit used for recognised preparations. In 1936 claims to the amount of £237 2s. 8d. were allowed and refunded to the Hospital.

Floor polish which can hardly be classed as a medicinal preparation, but nevertheless a very essential one in a hospital, totalled 147 gallons.

Report of the Royal Hospital Samaritan Society, 1936.

Before presenting the 51st Report of the Royal Hospital Samaritan Society, the Committee wish to express their sincere regret that Miss Marples, their very efficient Hon. Secretary, has been obliged to give up her work for six months, and have complete rest, owing to illness. The Committee sincerely hope she will soon regain her health and be able to return to the Hospital to continue her excellent work.

Another year of useful work has been completed by the Royal Hospital Samaritan Society, and the Committee have pleasure in presenting their 51st Annual Report.

Although fewer cases are now helped than in the past owing to other means of getting assistance, many of them are still long and expensive ones.

This year several young children have been supplied with milk for many months, and it is very gratifying to see the improvement made after this long treatment.

Diabetic cases have again been assisted to get the extra nourishment needed in their expensive diet, and many appreciative thanks have been received from patients for this help.

Several times the assistance of the Society has been called upon to help patients with tickets to carry them on until Public Assistance, or other aid, can be received for them.

Another case of interest was that of a widow who was ordered two months' treatment in Hospital. The patient was unable to do this as her relief would be stopped. The Society stepped in, and with help from other sources, the home was kept going until her return.

The Hon. Treasurer is concerned over funds. So many subscribers have either left the town, or for other reasons have given up helping us. She would be most grateful for more money to assist these long and deserving cases.

The Committee once more wish to thank all the friends who still help to carry on this very useful work of the Hospital, and trust that more subscriptions will be forthcoming in the future.

REPRESENTATIVE CASES.

Mrs. A.—A widow suffering from a very bad ulcerated leg, and ordered complete rest for some weeks. She was unable to do this unless money could be found to keep the home during her absence. The Society helped the relations and others to pay the rent until her return, for which she was most grateful.

Mrs. B.—Suffering from Diabetes and unable to get fresh vegetables, etc., needed for the special diet. These and other necessities were given, which were greatly appreciated.

Mr. C.—Suffering from severe eye trouble, and in Hospital for some time. Groceries were given to the wife until her husband returned home and received full Public Assistance money.

These three cases may give an idea of the way in which the Samaritan Society helps the different patients.
